It provides a golden opportunity for each and every student, enabling them to be an outstanding nursing professional, excelling in the future.

ABOUT CONFERENCE

Nursing research provides an opportunity for nurses to advance treatment techniques and improve patient outcomes. Research can also take the form of knowing how to oversee projects or interpreting cutting-edge research, which professionals can then apply directly to patient care. Nurse researchers are harnessing the knowledge they acquire to inform evidence-based practices. They are at the forefront carrying out research work and play a key role in identifying and improving quality of life for patients. Strong research skills contribute to nurses' ability to impact the current and future state of healthcare and nurses are the spotlight of research innovations.
